

My Personal Beautiful Camels~ White Kohi

Description

Balochistan is home to different and multipurpose camel breeds, productive and beautiful. I love all types of camels but the white Kohi breed is very close to my heart.

Kohi camel is found in northeastern Balochistan. It produces up to 10 kg of milk per day with a lactation length of 8 months. I have a few Kohi camels back in Balochistan, they are special and unique.

you can find some beautiful camels below.

She is pregnant at 9 months. We hope she will give birth to a very beautiful white calf.

Beautiful male calf of 9 months age.

Male calf of 9 months of age. He will be the boss of the herd after 3 years.

She is 9 years old, and the mom of a beautiful white calf. She will be conceived in the month of March next year

In a live video message, I appealed to the people in Balochistan to come back to the camel culture. Keep the camel instead of an exotic cow for milk. It has many benefits both for the environment and the expenses.

You can read further about the White Kohi camel breed in the following links. The Kohi means mountainous, this is a mountainous breed and is found in the Suleiman region of Balochistan Pakistan.

- For a scientific study, the link is here, https://www.researchgate.net/publication/200164015_Role_of_camel_in_the_pastoral_economy_of_Marri_tri
- For another short communication study, <http://camelides.cirad.fr/fr/actualites/Docs/balouchistani.pdf>
- To watch the camel market, dominated by White Kohi

Mangrota camel fair

<https://arkbiodiv.com/2012/01/04/kohi-camel-breed-of-suleiman-mountainous-region>

Date Created

September 28, 2020

Author

raziz_u4w9zfug